Nepal's CG Group set to launch 'game-changer' digital services

New Delhi, In what may cause disruption in Nepal's telecom sector, the country's billion-dollar group CG Corp is all set to launch a "game-changer" new-age digital services with an aim of transforming the country's digital platform by offering data at very affordable rates.

The venture will be Nepal's "first and real" 4G and will lay the ground for 5G services, the Group's Chairman Binod Chaudhary told IANS.

The launch, which will take place as soon as certain regulatory clearances are given, is expected to incur an investment of $2,250 million in the first phase.

"We want to be a serious player in the digital segment. We want to bring in a lot more offerings than any of the players are doing," said Chaudhary, whose group has more than 130 companies in diverse sectors including financial services, energy, education, hospitality and real estate.

"We are definitely interested to offer what we believe is going to be a game-changer. We want to make data very affordable as we believe that is what is not going to start a telecom company but we are going to start a new age digital company which should transform Nepal's digital platform," he said.

He said his group is in the advanced stage of planning its network and "waiting for certain regulatory approvals, which should happen any moment".

Chaudhary said his company will launch the service in partnership with TurkCell of Turkey, which is one of the major players in Euro-Asia and that part of the world. The CG Group has already launched CG Lifecell in Nepal in a tie-up with TurkCell-owned Lifecell.

"LifeCell has already launched CG Lifecell, as we call in Nepal, in collaboration with the Lifecell ventures of Turkey. It has already launched the BIP which is an equivalent or even better than Whatsapp. Within a very short time, it has gathered a lot of popularity," Chaudhary said.

The venture will be targeting 30 million people of Nepal. There is "a big vacuum for quality services" in Nepal's telecom sector which is "waiting for a real competition" as the state-owned company is no match to erstwhile Axiata and now Telenor Joint Venture, the top businessman of the country said.

The state-owned telecom company is Nepal Telecom.

"The telecom sector in Nepal is going through a very big transformative phase. Recently, the shares of the controlling interest of one of the two of the big players has been taken over by Telenor. The state-owned company and this company share the equal market," he said. "There is a need for a third operator so that the market becomes more vibrant and new technologies and new products can be brought in," he said.

Asked whether the CG's launch will be disruptive,

Chaudhary replied: "Certainly, whenever a new player is going to come, disruption is going to happen. No question about it. We are committed to making our services affordable."

"We will be the first and real 4G player, fully prepared to advance to 5G as soon as the same is launched," he added.

The CG Group Chairman said his company will do everything possible to make its services much more affordable to students, to farmers and to a much wider spectrum of consumers. "We want to make data very affordable as we believe that we are not going to start a telecom company but we are going to start a new age digital company which should transform Nepal's digital platform," he said.

Oil prices tumble amid surging US crude inventories

New York, Oil prices plummeted on Wednesday, as the market was roiled by a surprising buildup in US crude stockpiles amid growing fears over weakening demands caused by persistent trade frictions.

Both US crude and Brent crude slumped more than one US dollar, settling nearly 3.4 per cent and 2.2 per cent lower on daily basis, the Xinhua news agency reported. In particular, US oil benchmark at $1.68 dollars per barrel plunged over 20 per cent from its April peak to hit the lowest level since January, thus sliding into a bear market territory.

A bear market is defined as a 20 per cent decline or more in relevant benchmark readings from a recent high. US crude oil inventories shot up by 6.8 million barrels from the previous week, the US Energy Information Administration reported.

For the week ending May 31, the stockpiles registered 483.3 million barrels, about 6 per cent above the five year average for this time of year. The West Texas Intermediate for July delivery sank 1.8 US dollars to settle at $1.68 dollars a barrel on the New York Mercantile Exchange, while Brent crude for August delivery tumbled 1.34 dollars to close at $60.63 dollars a barrel on the London ICE Futures Exchange.

Gold rises for sixth straight session

Chicago, Gold futures on the COMEX division of the New York Mercantile Exchange closed higher on Wednesday, which has been the sixth climb in a row.

The most active gold contract for August delivery went up 4.90 US dollars, or 0.37 per cent, to settle at 1,333.60 dollars per ounce. The safe-haven metal has extended gains amid concerns over rising tensions between the US and its key trade partners, the Xinhua news agency reported. The Dow Jones Industrial Average continued its rally in response to expectations that the US Federal Reserve will cut interest rates. The S&P 500 and Nasdaq also followed Dow's rise.

Yet the broad rally in benchmark US stock indexes failed again to pressure gold futures, while private-sector employment for May indicated the lowest growth since 2010. Payroll processor ADP reported that US non-farm private employment increased by only 27,000 from April to May. As for other precious metals, silver for July delivery was up 2.2 cents, or 0.15 per cent to close at 14.791 dollars per ounce. Platinum for July delivery was down 16.00 dollar, or 1.99 per cent, to settle at 802.80 dollars per ounce.

US dollar rises amid Fed's upbeat beige book

New York, The US dollar rebounded in late trading on Wednesday, as investors got some relief from the US Federal Reserve's latest beige book, which reported upswings in the country's economic activities.

"Economic activity expanded at a modest pace overall from April through mid-May, a slight improvement over the previous period. Almost all Districts reported some growth, and a few saw moderate gains in activity," said the book released on Wednesday.

The beige book is a regular report of the US central bank on current economic conditions across the 12 Federal Reserve Districts, based on information collected from various sources, including research reports and interviews with business contacts, the Xinhua news agency reported.

Employment continued to increase across the country, with most districts reporting modest or moderate job growth. Growth was also seen in residential construction, real estate and tourism activity.

Apple's $999 laptop stand creates stir online

San Francisco, Apple has announced a PC monitor stand that costs a whopping $999, priced much higher than an iPhone X, currently on sale on Apple's website starting at $749. It has got the social media on a roll.

Apple made the "Pro Stand" announcement at the ongoing annual Worldwide Developers Conference in San Jose. The monitor stand comes from Apple's new Mac Pro desktop, which starts at $6,000 and a display monitor called the Pro Display XDR that costs $4,999, CNN reported on Wednesday. "The Pro Stand" has an intricately engineered arm that perfectly counter-balances the display so it feels virtually weightless, allowing users to easily place it into position, Apple wrote on its website. "Why the hell would one do that?? Selling display without a stand is like selling a car without tyres.. #Apple #ProStand," wrote another user.

NCR's 'poor' air quality days down by 50%: Javadekar

New Delhi, Union Environment Minister Prakash Javadekar on Thursday said the government's efforts to control air pollution have led to a decrease in the number of days with 'poor' air quality in the national capital region (NCR) by about 50 per cent in the last four years.

Speaking at an event here to mark World Environment Day that falls on June 5, he said steps such as setting up air quality monitoring centres across the country, bringing better vehicular emission standards and controlling waste and stubble burning have shown positive results.

"In 2014, there were 300 days in 'poor' category. In 2017, the number reduced to 213 and in 2018 to 206. We are sure that it will be below 200 this year," Javadekar said without quoting any source for the information.
